THE PROBLEM WITH LEGACY PAYMENT APPROACHES

Today's payment solutions are fundamentally disconnected from invoice automation, supplier enablement and dynamic discounting solutions that are essential to modern AP processes.

AP operations face significant challenges managing payments to their suppliers. Even today, most B2B payments are made by paper checks, which are time consuming, expensive and incredibly inefficient. Some organizations have started to make electronic payments through their banks, which has also proven to be problematic. Banks don't provide the technology and services required for a successful AP payment program. They lack the focus and resources required for continuous electronic payment adoption—and leave it to the customer to manage multiple payment methods, payment reconciliation and updates to supplier data.
